Originally developed September 15-17, 1995

The Vision and Value of Pachyderm Clubs

The following is adapted from an essay on the Pachyderms by one of our founding members, William P. Jenkins. This perspective from the early 1970s is still relevant to our organization and society almost fifty years later:

The vision of a Pachyderm depends on the perspective of the viewer. The uninformed probably see us as just another political Club. Those who are Pachyderms, or truly understand the philosophy of the Pachyderm movement, see something entirely different

Many writers and political scientists in this country have been concerned about the steadily declining turnout at the polls nearly every election. No one seems able to fully understand or explain the reasons for it. Some writers say crooked politicians have turned the voters off and they don't want anything to do with politics. Others say that if more people got "involved" in the political process things could be better.

All right, let's accept that... how does one go about getting involved in the political process? If county committees have meetings, and some do not, few people know about them or even know that they can attend. In many areas, nominating conventions are poorly publicized and maximum attendance is not a guiding principle. What can the newly interested citizen do? After all, remember, "bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."

Just such a situation prevailed in Boone County, Missouri when we started what evolved into the first Pachyderm Club. Several men found that it was fun to meet for lunch on Friday and talk with their newly elected State Representative, the first Republican since the Civil War. Each week one or two more would show up. Eventually they decided to form a Club. The Third Biennial Pachyderm Conference in St. Louis was an example of what can happen as a result of what was considered to be political audacity (300-plus in attendance at St. Louis).

A Pachyderm Club is not "just another political Club." We have a firm Republican orientation. We do not endorse candidates in primaries and we do not take stands on issues. There are built in limits on the overlap between Pachyderm Officers and GOP officials, not because they are evil, but because the reality of a layman's organization is important. The county, State and National chairs are asked to serve ex-officio as Board members on our Club and Federation Boards.

The local Pachyderm Club ideally meets every week at the same time and the same place. Thus it becomes a habit. At times, it may be the only place opposing forces in the party can come together and discuss issues in a civil and respectful manner.

Alexis de Tocqueville visited our country from France in 1835 and marveled at our ability to act on the public business independently. He commented on the vigor, ingenuity, and enterprise of our "Associations" –his word for independent institutions such as the Pachyderms– and sensed the boundless potential they had.

Where there is an active Pachyderm Club there is a new vigor in the political life of the community. We make news because we are doing something different and audacious. Publicity that speaks of the openness and civility of our meetings, inviting any and all to attend no matter what their past or present associations are, attracts the attention of people who would like to participate in the political process. Many Pachyderm Club members know of those who have come to meetings and joined the Club who previously had considered themselves to be independents, and in some cases Democrats.

Generally supportive of all Republican candidates, a Pachyderm Club can be the force behind the recruitment of good candidates. Office holders are generous in their praise of the role Pachyderm Clubs play in their campaigns and as a forum for them after they are in office.

Imagine, if you will, the impact of a Pachyderm Club in every county in this nation! There would be a meeting held, every week or month, where interested people could attend and respectfully listen or talk politics. An office holder or other community leader would have a place to make statements, exchange ideas with his or her constituents, or give his or her position on current topics of interest, thereby providing material for news releases or interviews.

These meetings gather together men and women who can be encouraged to become candidates or workers for candidates. The result of this political competition could cause the Democrats to seek out the best candidates they can find to keep from losing office to Republicans. If this were to happen, the public stands to gain from each party seeking the best available instead of the most available.

We Pachyderms are active at the local level. People throughout our communities know us. They know Pachyderms have something to say about who and what they are asked to vote for, and we make clear to those in our communities that they can become part of our movement. We can be dynamic, open, vigorous, determined and a force for good in American politics, all the while maintaining our civility and respect for each other. If we only do what we know how to do best and do more of it, if we dedicate ourselves to extending our influence to every state in America, if we remain steadfastly true to our principles and do not compromise them for anyone. Our value to the Republican Party and this nation will be recognized as a movement that helped make the American Dream a reality.

William P. Jenkins, a charter member of the founding Columbia Pachyderm Club in Missouri served as the initial President of the National and State Federation levels in the formative stages of the organization.

The Basics of Pachyderm Clubs

A unique concept for political clubs

The National Federation of the Grand Order of Pachyderm Clubs is a unique concept for political clubs. Here are some features:

- Patterned after civic clubs.
- Programs are centered on government, politics and community issues.
- Discussions focus on the pros and cons of major issues, with ideas exchanged in a civil and respectful environment.
- Clubs do not endorse issues or candidates in contested primaries.
- Pachyderms recognize that a Club movement is one of the most practical means by which a broad citizen participation in politics may be achieved

Fun, fellowship and programs

Pachyderm Clubs emphasize fun, fellowship and programs. – Great people and great speakers.

Local autonomy

A local Pachyderm Club is whatever the local citizens make it. It can have study groups for those interested in getting closer to the issues; a youth committee that establishes and maintains relationships with the younger Republican crowd; a political education committee to conduct campaign workshops and assist in other Republican Party training activities or it can be a Club that primarily just has good programs with interesting and informative speakers. It can serve to inform, educate, motivate and promote understanding of American politics, the political system and other issues important to the community. Since knowledge is power, simply providing good programs can be a tremendous contribution to better government in one's community.

Political education

Pachyderm Clubs provide a place where people can learn about and keep abreast of politics and government. All citizens are equally responsible for our free government. Participating in a Pachyderm Club is one way of carrying out this belief. A Pachyderm is a citizen who is interested in better government and has demonstrated this concern by paying dues to the political Club of his choice. Theodore Roosevelt made the point, "The first requisite of a good citizen in this Republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his weight."

Open to the public

Pachyderm meetings are open to the public. You do not need a personal invitation to attend. You're welcome at a Pachyderm Club meeting.

Pachyderm Clubs' Stance on Candidates/Issues

Pachyderms recognize that a major business of any political party is to select candidates and determine positions/priorities on issues. We also know that issues and candidates often cause division and factionalism instead of unity. The official party organization, and various groups within the party, work on the development of the party platform and the selection of party nominees. However, a great need exists for a stable, ongoing political Club movement where citizens with conflicting views on issues and candidates may join together with civility in recognition of the overall benefit and good that political parties serve. – Pachyderm Clubs are designed to fulfill this need.

The Pachyderm Club, as an organization, does not take positions on issues. The Pachyderm Club, as an organization, does not endorse in contested primary elections. Our members, in their personal and individual capacities, are of course free to support stances on any political or governmental issue and may endorse or otherwise support the candidate of their personal choice.

One seasoned political worker, after reviewing the Club rules, wondered aloud if the organization wasn't just a "coffee group" that did nothing? Answer: At first glance, the rules and concept of Pachyderms may seem a bit sterile, especially for the person who is interested in changing all that they see wrong in government. However, if one realizes that "knowledge is power" and acknowledges some faith in the ability of the average American to decide what is right, then the concept can take on real meaning.

It is also important to recognize that as part of our mission to educate and inform, local clubs may periodically host a speaker who does not necessarily espouse the Pachyderm Club's conservative message or may be a duly-elected, non-Republican, public office holder. This is allowed. The hearing out of a speaker is not an indication of support for that speaker's views or the organization he or she represents.

As a 501(c)(4) educational organization, Pachyderm Clubs should never make contributions to a political candidate from Club funds. The Club may make contributions to other not-for-profit or community organizations; for example, FFA scholarships, sponsoring students to attend Model UN programs, etc. Individual members may, of course, make contributions on their own behalf to anyone. Individual members may also make personal contributions to political organizations and list their Pachyderm Club as the named sponsor; for example, buying a table for the county Lincoln Day Dinner.

The Pachyderm Foundation

Purpose

The Pachyderm Foundation is an independent and separate entity apart from the National Federation of Pachyderm Clubs. The purpose of the Pachyderm Foundation is to: promote the development of political leaders for America; encourage political education; and promote the dissemination of information about the U.S. political system. Its primary use of funds is to provide scholarships to students in pursuit of study that would equip them to make some contribution to the political leadership needs of the nation.

How to Give

There are several ways in which a person may make a gift without the outlay of cash. Here are a few of the most popular methods:

Life Insurance Gifts

- Make the Pachyderm Foundation the beneficiary of an existing policy.
- Make the foundation the last beneficiary in case primary or secondary beneficiaries don't survive you.
- Make a gift of a paid up policy or retirement plan (IRAs, Keough Plans, and most pension and profit sharing plans).
- The Pachyderm Foundation can be designated as a beneficiary of your account to receive any funds remaining after you and the beneficiaries no longer need them. You make such a designation when you start a plan, or you can contact your financial institution handling your present account. This adjustment can usually be made easily.

Life Estate Agreement (Trust)

- This plan allows you to make a charitable gift of a personal residence or farm, while retaining the right to live there and use the property and any income it produces for life.
- The property avoids estate tax, since it is a charitable gift.
- Capital gains tax is avoided (review current tax laws).
- There is a tax deduction for a portion of the value of the property in the year the agreement is signed.
- A valuable gift to the Pachyderm Foundation is made possible.

Pachyderm Fellows

The “Pachyderm Fellow” designation is for persons who desire to support the Pachyderm Foundation. The two levels are: (1) “Pachyderm Fellow National Sponsor” for gifts of $1,000 or more. (2) “Pachyderm Fellow” for gifts of $500 or more. The gifts may be in installments over a three year period. Contributors receive a plaque and other recognition. Note: The Pachyderm Fellow designation is also available to individuals who support the expansion of Pachyderm Clubs. Those funds go to the National Federation of Pachyderm Clubs. Such contributions are not tax deductible.

Persons who wish to make contributions may use the form below

Club Operations and Structure

Headquarters Services

The National office is dedicated to ensuring the success of each local Club chapter. Local Club leaders should not hesitate to reach out to the National office for assistance, guidance, Pachyderm-branded materials, or simply for a motivational lift. The National office can be reached via email at admin@pachyderms.org or via telephone at 1 (888) 467-2249.

Club Formation

Club start-up and other pertinent information is available.

Membership Rosters and Database Information

As part of a two-way communication between local Clubs and National, Club Rosters will be sent annually to each Club Treasurer. However, it is the responsibility of the local Club to keep the National office updated throughout the year.

Pachyderm Affinity Merchandise

Pins, pens, T-shirts, polos, hats and other Pachyderm items are available for purchase through Pachyderm Headquarters. Look for new merchandise and a new online store coming soon at www.pachyderms.org.

Website Templates and Hosting

National Pachyderms will be providing, at no charge to local Pachyderm Clubs, basic website templates and hosting services. Please also be sure to follow, share, repost and retweet posts/tweets from the National organization's social media accounts.

Club Supplies

Club supplies, individual member's supplies, award supplies, and political education materials are available from Pachyderm Headquarters. An updated supplies catalog will be available on the website.

Club Officer Training

Club workshop guides for officer training are available from the Pachyderm Headquarters. State Federation and National Regional Directors also will assist with the training of Club Officers. Additional training may be provided via telephone consultation. Club Presidents are also invited to quarterly Club President video or phone conferences.

Action Program for Clubs

The following are Club activities are suggested as a guide in the planning and operation of your Club.

Review Organizational Materials

At the beginning of each Club administrative year, the new President should review organizational materials available from Pachyderm Headquarters and assure that his or her key officers and committee chairs have the items pertaining to their position. Outgoing officers and committee chairs are expected to pass pertinent records to their successors.

Membership

Membership dues become due annually on January 1st and delinquent as of March 1. Each Club should conduct their annual membership drive between December 1 and March 1. The National Federation electronically provides an annual dues renewal notice on or about December 1st to all Pachyderm members. The standard practice is for the local Club Treasurer to process the incoming dues and remit the National organization's portion along with the updated member lists to the National office. Remember: Dues are the backbone of organizations like ours!

Starting New Clubs

An active Club extension committee works on starting new Clubs in nearby towns. Club start assistance is available from Pachyderm Headquarters. Establish a Club goal for the number of Clubs you plan to start each year.

Communications/Liaison

Appoint a Club Liaison Chair to other Republican organizations in your area. This can promote better communication and coordination of political activities. As of 2/2012, National Bylaws encourage members of young (College age or younger) Republicans to join Pachyderms at a reduced rate of $10 annually National dues (rather than $20, State Federation, if exists, and local dues still apply. If there are no TARS (Teenage Republicans) or College Republican (CRs) group in your town, help start one. All Republican Clubs can be complementary to each other. The Pachyderm Club's policy is to assist and work with other party groups (see Youth Chair below).

Fundraising

Local Clubs

The Federation encourages local Clubs to participate in local party fundraising efforts. Events might include: auctions, dinners, and BBQ's, 50/50 Drawings (where legal) at Club Meetings, and even garage sales. Many Pachyderms organizations raise funds to defray members' expenses to State and National meetings. Coordinate with the local Republican Committee and other GOP organizations in fundraising.

Many Clubs also have a "Supporting" or "Sustaining" Member level set at a higher level dollar amount, say $100. Any such dues amount over the $20 for National stays with your local Club.

National Federation

Since income from dues alone cannot provide adequately for growth and expansion of the Pachyderm Club movement, all Clubs are asked to support the Federation in the following ways:

- (1) Clubs are asked to forward 15% of the proceeds from Club fundraising events as a contribution to the Federation (this has been a policy for several years and some Clubs have contributed regularly).

- (2) Encourage members when renewing their annual dues to give an amount beyond their dues to be directed in support of the National Pachyderms organization.
- (3) Support the Pachyderm Fellows Program. A “Pachyderm Fellow” is a person who contributes $500-$999 to the Federation. The monies can be given in small amounts over a period of three years and when $500 is reached, the Pachyderm Fellow certificate would be forthcoming. The "Ivory Circle" level is for contributions of $1000 or more to the National organization.

Programs

“What’s in it for me?” is the question a member commonly asks when assessing an organization to which they belong. Club programs are the main source, and probably the most important tool, for providing the members information and education on political and government affairs. Of course, some variety in programs might occasionally include a speaker or other programs not related to politics and government.

Club Scrapbook (Club Historian)

Keep your Club scrapbook up to date. Display it at the annual installation of officers, at federation functions and the like, to share your Club’s history and accomplishments. It is one measurement used in determining National Club awards.

Social Media

The importance of your local Club maintaining an active social media presence cannot be stated strongly enough. Your presence and activity across various platforms shows the community you are part of an established organization and provides an open line of communication to both current and potential members. At minimum, it is urged that your Club establish and maintain a Facebook group page and a Twitter account. Other services like Instagram, Pinterest, Reddit, etc., are also a plus. Encourage your members to “like” or subscribe to your page(s). It is also important to have several people serve as Admins (or know the login credentials) for each Club account so as to ensure continuity, and be sure to list your upcoming speakers schedule in your Facebook Events.

Club Youth Chair

Suggested activities: One or more times per year invite high school and college youth to speak at your Club. Invite them to inform you about the views of their age group. Other suggestions include:

- Appointing a Club member to serve as liaison to each local Republican Club
- Helping start a Club
- Sponsoring a TAR (Teenage Republican) or CR (College Republican) Club
- Sponsoring a workshop for youth. This could be a quarterly or semiannual affair. The topics could be some of the same material used for Club orientation of new members. Highlight such subjects as:
 - How the Republican Party is organized
 - Explain the laws that govern political parties in your state.
 - Hold a Parent, Son and Daughter banquet or special meeting.

Sample Annual Club Budget

Each local Club must be self-sustaining. As of 2019, typical dues structure is set at $40, with $20 going to support the National organization and $20 staying at the local Club (and $5 of that going to the local State Federation, where applicable).

Many Clubs also have a “Supporting” or “Sustaining” Member level set at a higher level dollar amount, say $100. Any such dues amount over the $20 for National stays with your local Club.

The following chart presents a sample budget. Obviously, each local Club sets its own priorities and may have varying costs, such as for its meeting venue, mailings, etc.

Income	15 members	45 members	75 members
Dues: $40.00/year	$600.00	$1800.00	$3000.00
Expenses
National Dues: $20.00/year	300.00	900.00	1500.00
State Dues: $2-5 (based on $5)	75.00	225.00	375.00
Charter/Club start	50.00	50.00	50.00
Programming (speakers and guests, meals, etc.)	60.00	120.00	240.00
Social Media / Website	0.00	120.00	180.00
Postage (newsletters, etc.)	15.00	60.00	120.00
Printing (stationery, newsletter, programs, etc.)	30.00	100.00	150.00
Supplies (awards, pins, plaques, name tags, banners)	15.00	60.00	90.00
Misc. contributions, memorials, adv., displays, etc.	15.00	100.00	150.00
Total Estimated Expenses	560.00	1735.00	2655.00
Reserves for exigencies	40.00	65.00	145.00

Typical Club’s Budget Assumptions

1. Club meets every week
2. Club publishes and emails a monthly newsletter
3. Club provides pins for the members (supplied at no charge for new members)
4. Club gives speakers a memento (bookmark, pen, etc.)
5. Club has Officer/Director name tags
6. Club gives at least one award (plaque) each year
7. Club has at least one major function per year with programs, tickets, etc.
8. All other activities requiring funds are either self-supporting or financed by special fundraisers.

Sample Meeting Agenda

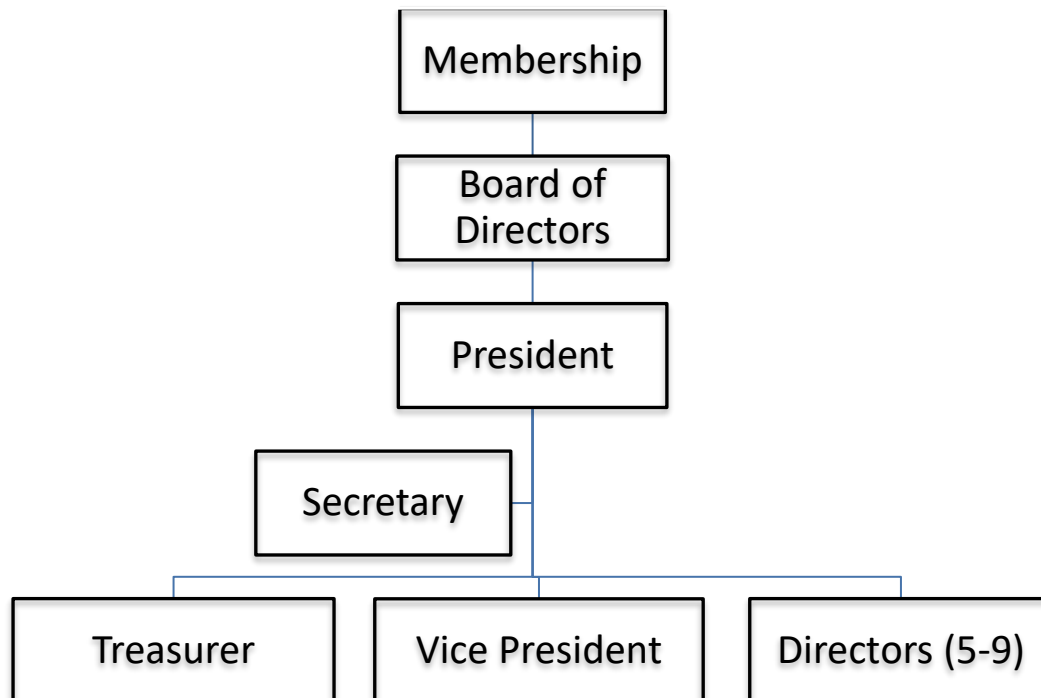

The following provides the typical meeting agenda outline. Local clubs are welcome to adjust, but remember to start and end the meeting in a timely fashion:

- I. Meeting Opening
 - Invocation (optional, please see note #1)
 - Pledge of Allegiance and, where applicable, State Pledge
- II. Introduction of guests
 - New members' induction
- III. Announcements
 - Communications
 - Member news

Note #1: Many Pachyderm Clubs include an invocation at all of their functions, but caution must be exercised that any invocation used is nondenominational. Since Pachyderms is open to all Republicans, we have many religions within our ranks and it would be unfortunate to inadvertently offend someone while offering a prayer.

Typical Organizational Chart:

Note: Based on 60-Member Local Club. Smaller clubs may have fewer Directors.

About the positions

- Each new President should decide upon what Club goals for the year he or she would like to see adopted. These goals might include: Sponsor one new Pachyderm Club, provide an orientation session within three months after a new member joins, the induction of new members during the year, Club meetings which start and end on time, a Club newsletter issued every month listing upcoming programs, Club representation to all State, and National Pachyderm meetings, a plan for visits to nearby Pachyderm Clubs, implement a serious membership drive, and/or survey Club members for their input on Club improvement.
- Secretary should maintain a central repository of all Club records, typically in coordination with the Treasurer and Membership chair.
- Treasurer duties include: Dues collection & records; Club budget; Send dues & roster to National each month.
- Vice President(s) duties include: Programs; Socials; Awards
- Directors duties include: Club extension; Fundraising; Membership Growth; Youth Support; Public Relations; Social Media; Club Meetings; Major events
- Although a Director (in sample chart above) is assigned the responsibility for the subject area, a committee chair and his committee may be doing the work.

Note #1

Many Pachyderm Clubs include an invocation at all of their functions, but caution must be exercised that any invocation used is nondenominational. Since Pachyderm is open to all Republicans, we have many religions within our ranks and it would be unfortunate to inadvertently offend someone while offering a prayer.

Note #2

The incoming President recognizes the outgoing President and presents him or her with an appropriate gift from the Club. Gifts have included engraved gavel, elephant on a stand, Past President’s plaque, etc.

Program for Installation of Officers

The following text should be followed during the installation of Club officers, typically at the final or the first meeting of the calendar year. This may be preceded by a reading of “The Pachyderm Challenge” (see below). It is suggested that an elected official or judge be asked to conduct the installation ceremony:

Pachyderms and guests, I am pleased and honored to conduct the installation ceremony for the [local Club Name] of the National Federation of the Grand Order of Pachyderm Clubs.

[Officiant may insert personal comments or observations, if any, and designate a member to assist the installation of officers.]

As I read the names of the Officers and Directors to be installed, will each of you please come forward?

_____, President
_____, 1st Vice President
_____, 2nd Vice President
_____, Treasurer
_____, Secretary
_____, Sergeant At Arms (if any)
_____, Directors (which may be multiple)

As leaders of your Club, each of you shares some common duties. These are: help maintain a friendly, civil and respectful atmosphere among members and guests, and support your Club President, your governing Board, and the Club as a whole. The morale and success of the Club depends not only on the leadership of the President, but also on the contribution and support of each of you.

President [Name], you have been entrusted with the greatest responsibility of any Club officer. You are more than a presiding officer. You are ultimately responsible for all Club operations and programs. You are to be guided by the bylaws and the decisions of the Club membership and Board of Directors. You must acquaint yourself with the policies and traditions of the Pachyderm movement and initiate and carry through programs for the betterment of the Club.

At this time I ask each of you: Do you solemnly pledge to perform faithfully and impartially the duties of the office to which you have been elected? Answer, “I Do”.

[Officers answer: “I Do”]

On behalf of the National Federation of the Grand Order of Pachyderm Clubs, I hereby declare the officers and Board members of this Pachyderm Club duly installed. Congratulations on your selection as a leader of this Club and best wishes for a successful year.

The Pachyderm Challenge

(May be read at Installation of Officers)

Your Pachyderm Club, through the individual and collective efforts of its members, such as each of you here today, has unlimited potential for advancing better government, and for making our government more responsive toward the fulfillment of our ideals of justice and liberty for all.

Remember, the good citizen who actively participates in the American political processes is contributing to the survival of our free government. This work may be a choice of being an active member of a political Club such as the Pachyderms, supporting a candidate, or doing something else in political matters.

To some degree, every citizen with an equal voice and vote is a politician. Those who participate in our political system are helping to make the constitution and free government work. They are helping to maintain our freedoms, which include freedom of assembly. If we do not keep freedom of assembly, the organizations to which we belong might not even be able to meet!

Therefore, what is more important in America than working in the Party of your choice, supporting the candidate of your choice, or doing something in politics— all of which is in support of better government?

The facts are that only about 14% or fewer of our people have ever contributed any of their time or money to a political party or candidate. Yet, they want capable and honest persons in public office.

With this record of citizen participation, perhaps we are fortunate that we have not had more wrongdoing and violations of public trust.

The Challenge for us is clear and is perhaps best summarized in the Pachyderm motto, “Free Government Requires Active Citizens.” As Pachyderms, we are setting an example of citizen participation and we can also encourage our fellow citizens to be involved.

Let us conclude this Challenge to the new officers and to all Pachyderms with the following thoughts: Good citizenship includes politics. We get the government we deserve, not the one we wish for. And lastly, “All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing.”

President

Presidential Traits

The local Club President sets the tone. He/she is the chief executive officer of the Club. She/he is the leader and should spark some of the following attributes in the Club membership for a successful Club:

- Enthusiasm – It's contagious! Share your excitement and zeal. Great leaders emphasize the positive and minimize the negative.
- Friendliness, Kindness & Civility – Kindness is the most vital ingredient of all sound human relationships and the most binding force of any civilized society. The President must ensure that all members act in a civil and respectful manner to each other, and to all speakers and guests.
- Loyalty – This means loyalty to the organization and its high purposes. The President places the purpose of the organization in the forefront realizing that a basic factor in high morale is for members to know what they are here for and what they are here to do.
- Responsibility – The President instills a sense of responsibility in officers and members.

Key Points for the President:

Represent the organization

The President represents the organization: The press and public will look to you as representing the Pachyderm movement in your locale.

Political education and information

This is a primary purpose of Pachyderms. Constantly review programs and activities to assure that members are obtaining worthwhile information on politics, government, and their communities.

Conduct of Club and Board meetings

Generally, business is conducted at the Board meetings. An agenda is desirable for all meetings. Conducting Board meetings by parliamentary procedures will get things done in a businesslike manner and waste less time. Summary of a Pachyderm meeting: Fun, fellowship and program!

Recognize committee chairs

Give recognition to committee chairs. Call on them for brief reports at meetings when appropriate.

Introduce guests

See that guests are introduced at each Club meeting. Important guests should be invited to sit at the head table. Welcome them to return at the close of the meeting.

Announce upcoming meeting

Be sure that the next meeting's program is announced before you adjourn.

Encourage membership

This is the lifeblood of any organization. Continually strive for recruitment of new members. Assure that membership applications are available at each meeting for new prospects. (This is a responsibility of the Membership Chair)

Communications

The Club Secretary is a key contact for State and National Federation news. He/she should keep the membership informed; the local membership provides the strength for the state and national levels of Pachyderms. It is also helpful to have a Post Office Box as a permanent address for receiving mail and establishing your local club's bank account.

Attend extension and Federation meetings

Your Club should be helping to form new Clubs. Attendance at Federation functions is important see that your Club is represented.

Enforce bylaws

See that the bylaws are followed. For example, ensure that the monthly membership reports and annual financials are reported on schedule.

Establish induction procedure

Establish a set procedure for induction of new members. As a minimum, allow the new member to give a short introduction of each new member at their first meeting as a member.

Recognition/Relationship with Public Officials

Periodic updates from these Republicans are important. Remember: Most Club business is handled by the Board; regular meetings are mostly fun, fellowship and program. For programs, keep in mind the Club purpose and goals.

Ensure Social Media Participation

As stated elsewhere in this handbook, it is highly recommended that each local chapter create its own webpage, and ensure its contact information is kept updated on the National webpage. On social media, it is highly advised that each local chapter creates, at minimum, a Facebook page, as well as other social media accounts such as Twitter, Instagram, and other sites which may gain popularity in the future.

Ensuring your meeting details are also listed in your local community and local Republican party organization calendars is always helpful.

[Nostalgic note: This section of the handbook previously focused on placing a listing for you Pachyderm Club in "your local phone book."]

Free of Charge Functions

See that at least one or two functions are held each year where all Republicans are invited to attend free of charge. Local Republicans should be able to meet their congressional representatives, for example, without paying $50.00 for a dinner event. Coordinate this activity with your local Republican organizations. Take advantage of such gatherings by having a literature table and invite guests to join.

Set Goals

Your Club needs goals for the year. Goals enable you to talk about something which will take place in the future this means anticipation! This can add interest and enthusiasm. Consider a project; a drawing perhaps, in which one member will have the opportunity to win $50 or $100 for his or her trip to the State or National Republican Convention, State Lincoln Day, or the National Pachyderm Biennial Conference, etc.

Communicate

Communication is usually a challenge for Clubs. Be sure Pachyderm Headquarters is on your mailing list for newsletters, etc. Establish an email distribution list for your Club members, prospects, past guests, and maintain Facebook and other social media pages.

Keep Tradition Alive

Club leaders should maintain close relationships with other key area Republicans. Send regular updates, newsletters, and /or establish and keep these things alive: Pachyderm Preamble and Purpose and the Club events listed on your annual calendar. The annual calendar listings serve to maintain Club traditions.

Obtaining New Members

Obtaining new members is a constant task. Use the prospect list for members to generate new members. Frequently remind members to bring guests.

Fundraising

Remind members of the need for funds to support the growth of new Clubs. This is what the “beyond” your dues solicitation is about. A special Pachyderm pin is given to those contributing beyond dues. Also, know about the Pachyderm Foundation, the Pachyderm Fellows program and the Ivory Circle.

Secretary

A good Secretary is an important asset to any Club. He or she is responsible for keeping accurate records of the proceedings of the Club.

Official Statement of Duties of the Club Secretary:

The Secretary shall keep all records and minutes of meetings of the Club and Board of Directors and perform other duties as may be delegated by the Board of Directors.

Summary of Duties of the Club Secretary

Keep Club records

Keep Club records and minutes of all business sessions. Normally, the business of the Club will be conducted at Board meetings. The Secretary is responsible for keeping the Club policy manual up to date (sample available from headquarters).

Maintain mailing/email list

Don't forget to include the Federation Executive Director on your Club mailing list.

Mail/Email meeting notices

Prepare and mail/email all notices of Club and Board meetings (unless other arrangements are made). Some Clubs use newsletters to announce meetings and programs in advance. A telephone committee system and Facebook and social media posts are other ways to notify members of meetings.

Maintain a Club scrapbook

News clippings and other items relating to Club activities will provide a good history of the Club (some Clubs have a Historian or scrapbook chair). Remember to also post your photos on Facebook and on your Club webpages.

Prepare membership roster

Prepare at least annually, by April 1, a roster of members for submission to the National office. Coordinate with the Club Treasurer and/or membership chair, who should be maintaining a current file of all paid up members.

Handle correspondence

Handle correspondence; share pertinent correspondence with the Club or Board as appropriate.

Provide informational materials

See that Pachyderm information, such as the informational brochure, membership applications, and newsletters are on hand at each Club meeting. Some Clubs have a display table of this material, as well as political educational material.

Transition office records

Deliver to successor, unless directed otherwise by the Board, all records pertaining to the office.

Maintain liaison with the Federation

Keep the Club informed on Federation matters involving Club news and informational material available. Forward Federation reports as requested. For example, notify the Federation Executive Director immediately upon the election of new officers, upon filling of a vacancy on the Club Board, or when address or other corrections are due on the Club roster.

Communications

We need your help to improve our communications and the sharing of information that can benefit all Clubs.

As with any organization, our publications have the main purpose of keeping our Club leaders and members informed. The left hand needs to know what the right hand is doing. The successes of one Club can be shared with other Clubs and this is important for improving our Clubs, and in turn, the benefit for our members.

As Club Secretary, unless someone else in your Club has been assigned the task, you should serve as a news reporter for the National Pachyderm Newsletter. In most Clubs, the Secretary is responsible for maintaining the Club's scrapbook. The Club's scrapbook is a history of the Club's activities and becomes a historical reference for new Club leaders and other members. The scrapbook should be brought along to Federation Board meetings and conferences as another source of information to be shared among Clubs.

Please forward the Secretary's Report by the 5th of each month. Please contact Pachyderm headquarters if you have any questions. Feel free to submit a report via email to admin@pachyderms.org.

Each Club should have (no later than Feb. 1) an annual calendar listing all major events/functions for the year. This is valuable for new officers and members, who may not know the traditions of the Club.

Monthly Secretary Checklist

The Club Secretary should submit the following to National Headquarters:

- 1) Your Club's monthly newsletter
- 2) Secretary's report (by the fifth of each month)
- 3) Changes in leadership (as they occur)
- 4) Forward a copy of your Club's Board meeting minutes
- 5) Provide an annual Club achievements summary (in December)

Reminders:

- Make your Club's Social Media Committee aware of any changes that need to be posted.
- Keep a copy of any publicity that your Club generates for use in your Scrapbook.

Treasurer

The Treasurer is the authorized custodian of all Club funds. He or she may be Chair of the Budget Committee or otherwise assists in drafting a Club budget, which is submitted to the Club Board normally in January.

The Treasurer shall receive and disburse all funds subject to the approval of the Board of Directors for amounts over the authority of the President; shall keep a record of all receipts and disbursements; provide monthly financial statements at Board meetings and give a written report at the annual meeting in December. The financial records shall be examined annually as of December 31 and an examiner's auditor's report made to the Board of Directors.

Duties

Establish checking account

Establish a checking account at a bank approved by the Club Board. Receive and disburse funds in accordance with the Club's bylaws or as authorized by proper Club or Board action. If a Club engages in fundraising projects to help candidates or other Club projects, it may be appropriate to establish a money market or savings account. It is important to ensure that there are at least two authorized signers on all bank accounts; typically the Treasurer and Club President.

Provide financial status regularly

Furnish a clear picture of Club's financial position at each Board meeting or as directed by the Board. Provide a brief status report of Club finances at a regular Club meeting at least quarterly (March, June, September and December). Annual financial reports for the local Club must be submitted to the National headquarters office by January 31st. Such reports should include at least a balance sheet and income statement (aka Profit & Loss statement).

Conduct general accounting

Keep an accurate account of all monies received and paid out. Pay all bills by check. Preserve all receipts, vouchers (if used), bank statements and canceled checks, so that these records are available for an annual audit in January.

Transition office records

Deliver to successor, unless directed otherwise by the Board, all records pertaining to the Club. This includes ensuring a smooth transition of signators on the Club bank accounts.

Keeping rosters current

We have a mobile society today. In many areas, a current physical and electronic mailing list will have within one year a 20% change in addresses. It is a constant task to keep membership lists current, so both the local Club Treasurers and the headquarters must share information. Club Treasurers must inform headquarters when a name should be deleted.

Club Treasurers are responsible for providing headquarters with current membership data including updated names, addresses, phone numbers and email addresses. Actions Club Treasurers can take to help keep rosters current include:

- Submit any changes/corrections to Club member's information to headquarters. This can be done via email or mail to headquarters, or by calling.
- Coordinate closely with the Club's membership committee. Be sure to agree as to where the “official membership roster” is being maintained and that at least two persons have a current copy at all times.

Forward contributions

Monies received as contributions to the National organization beyond the amount of the annual dues, should be promptly forwarded to the National Federation. Funds from local “sustaining members” over the standard base dues amount may be maintained for support of your local Club.

Forward annual dues

Per the National Bylaws, forward dues promptly (within thirty days or less). Club Treasurers shall forward the National Federation per capita annual dues to the National Federation Treasurer along with the related list of members. In states where dues have been adopted for a Pachyderm State Federation, Club Treasurers shall forward such State dues to the State Federation Treasurer. In each case, the Club Treasurer should forward, with the payment, a list of the members for whom the payment applies.

It is highly recommended for Treasurers to use a spreadsheet or basic accounting program for tracking dues.

Annual dues technically expire on December 31. However, dues are typically collected from December-March and are considered officially delinquent on March 1. Remember, any new member paying dues after September 30 will be credited for the next full year. Thus, one who pays his dues on or after October 1 of the current year should have an expiration date of December 31st the following year.

Clubs may exercise flexibility in setting dues. For example, $40/individual, $60/couple, $35/student. One Club assessed $25/age thirty & under. Their aim was to attract young professionals to their weekly luncheon meetings. Contact the National office if you have questions regarding dues levels and associated special classifications.

The National Federation portion of an individual Club member's dues (no matter what the Club is charging) is normally $20/member. Exceptions include:

- Clubs remit $5 to National for approved Honorary members
- $10 is remitted for members under 18 years of age or those that are members of both CRs or TARs and Pachyderms.

Address for National Dues Remittance:

National Federation of Pachyderm Clubs, 2726 Bissonnet, Suite 240-215, Houston, TX 77005

Where a State Federation is organized state dues may be levied. Currently those states with approved Federation dues are:

- Missouri- $5/member
- Montana- $4/member

Membership Applications

An official membership application is a helpful tool in gathering member information and, therefore, keeping a current list for dues invoicing. One idea is to create a membership application that includes your Club’s Board listing, meeting dates, programs schedules, as well as contact phone numbers, email addresses and website, Facebook and social media information on the top and an application the member can cut off, on the bottom. This can serve as both a marketing piece and application, and added to booth tables or handed out a Lincoln Days.

Monthly Treasurer's Checklist

- 1) Make all Club deposits in a timely manner.
- 2) Record all financial transactions and prepare a monthly financial report for the Board.
- 3) At least once a month send to the National Headquarters and your State Federation Treasurer (if applicable) a list of new or renewing members along with payment of their dues. Please include members' names, addresses, telephone numbers and e-mail addresses. Please note spouses if your Club has couples rates.
- 4) Provide your Club Secretary and newsletter editor with a list of all new members so that your mailing lists and email distributions lists are kept current.
- 5) The National Headquarters sends out, from time to time, a list of members for you to verify. Please do so and contact the National Headquarters with any discrepancies.
- 6) Each October, you should notify the National Headquarters of the dues amount set by your Club for the following year. This will allow the office to make any changes necessary to process the renewal notices.

Club Committees

Membership Committee

Dues paying members are the backbone of organizations like ours. If someone says he or she cannot attend very much and therefore is leaning toward not paying dues, let him or her know that if all they did was pay dues it would help strengthen our organization and permit us to pursue worthwhile goals. Annual dues become due January 1 and are delinquent March 1. Encourage new memberships year round; "Every member gets a member." However, during the period from January 1 to March 1, each year, hold a concentrated drive for membership renewals and new members.

Suggested steps for membership efforts

Remember, prospective members generally want to know "What's in it for me?" Many members appreciate the opportunity to network with others. The fun and fellowship, and keeping up with current political issues can be of interest to members. Emphasize the Pachyderm motto: "Free government requires active citizens."

Use any good ideas on membership growth that you see in other organizations in your community. Most civic clubs, for example, are faced with the same problem that we have in obtaining dues renewals annually

Promote programs through communications

Early in January or late December, publish a Club newsletter listing several programs ahead for your Club. Invite members to pay their dues for the coming year. Submit press releases and/or event notices, to the local newspapers, radio stations, etc., announcing upcoming programs. And, of course, use social media to the fullest extent possible.

Recognize new members

The membership chair or another member of the committee should make sure that all new members are appropriately recognized.

Provide a meaningful induction

The induction should include a good introduction of the new member; a brief statement of what Pachyderms are about, the high purpose, present the lapel pin, and welcome the new member.

Other Duties

Dues renewals are sent electronically from National Headquarters with instructions to address payments to your local Club Treasurer. The first dues renewal is delivered in early- to mid-December. This effort must be coordinated with local Club Treasurers so it is critical that the National Office is informed of any address changes for the Treasurer, as well as, the correct dues structure for your Club. Periodic rosters by Club are distributed to Club Treasurers. A list of members may be provided to the Club membership Chair. See the Club Treasurer for a historical roster of the Club members shown last year in which dues were paid.

Club Extension Committee

Every Pachyderm Club is encouraged to have an active Club Extension Committee, the primary task of this committee is to help other communities establish Pachyderm clubs. Your Club Extension Committee Chair may obtain assistance and materials, from Headquarters, to aid in forming clubs.

Other Duties

Generally, plan and carry out the Club's efforts to:

- Promote practical political education and the dissemination of information on our political system.
- Promote the development of potential political leaders.
- Coordinate with the State and National Federations' political education committees.
- Provide the Club newsletter editor promotional information about the Committee's aims.
- Maintain a file of current voter information materials.

Finance Committee

The Finance Committee is responsible for the development of the Club's annual budget, planning and seeking Board approval on fundraising projects, and executing the fundraising projects.

Other Duties

The Finance Committee Chair and the committee are responsible for keeping the Club membership informed on all matters relating to finance, including those matters, which come from the National or State Pachyderm Federation.

Membership of this committee would normally include the Club Treasurer.

Program Committee

Types of Programs:

Speaker

The key to great membership is hosting interesting, highly informative and educational speakers. Always consider the public relations angle. When considering a speaker as an option, think of how you will "sell" the presentation to the media and the public. If you need to grow your membership – and there is always room for growth– you need to consider not only what your members would be interested in, but also what would interest your potential members. Steer clear of the stale, canned presentations that are being given at every other political and civic club. Members, potential members, and the press are much less likely to attend presentations by speakers they have frequently heard elsewhere. Don't forget to tap your regional network of authors, college presidents and professors, think tank and non-profit directors, investigative reporters, military leaders, police and fire chiefs, sheriffs, governmental agency directors, judges, and so many other not-strictly "political" speakers.

Candidate Forums

During primary election season, host candidate forums for local and state elections. Publicize your event. Always be careful to ensure no candidate has stacked the audience with his/her supporters asking obviously set up questions. To ensure fairness in candidate forum meetings, it is suggested that written questions are submitted, reviewed, and asked by the forum moderator so as to ensure the questions are balanced and fair to all candidates.

Panels

Two to four brief talks. Consider allowing questions by panel members to the panel, then proceed with questions from the floor.

Debates or Pro and Con Presentations

These can be exciting and informative, and often draw a big crowd, sometimes from both sides. This format of meeting program could be publicized as an open forum, open to the public, and sponsored by the Pachyderm Club.

Note: For “debates” is better for the moderator to ask prepared questions that deal directly with the issues. Invite the Candidates and guests to stay and socialize after the forums to address any personal questions.

Skits

Mimic TV programs. Special events emphasis such as Constitution Week, Education Week, Lincoln and Washington's Birthdays, convention reports, etc. — with or without skits.

Mini Programs

A mini program consists of short educational topics (about three to five minutes in length) which are presented at each meeting. But, be flexible, leave the mini program out if your main speaker needs all the time. Encourage all Club members to take part by giving a mini program on a rotation schedule. Programs could include such topics as:

- Explain a parliamentary law motion and principles of parliamentary law (consider a series, discussing one per meeting)
- News item on national, state or local GOP
- Educational item on politics, political campaign techniques, other politically relevant matter, or short “this day in history” recaps.

Possible Program Topics:

Political organization—national, state and local

Review the state laws governing political parties, elections and campaign finances.

How to conduct a political campaign

Host an instructional program on the basics of campaigning (Campaigning Best Practices Campaigning 101, or Campaign Boot camp, Top Ten Dos and Don'ts), consider including a panel of Republican victors and maybe a Political Science Professor or pollster.

How can an individual participate in politics?

Focus on the individual in politics and how they can make a difference. Perhaps a program on how one can be an effective advocate for their beliefs. Consider involving your local Central Committee Chair and the State Republican Party. During Presidential election years have someone present about caucuses or the Electoral College. Explain the process for participating in precinct, senatorial district, state and national conventions.

Political philosophy

Why am I a Republican? Host a panel discussion or speaker that addresses the differences between political parties and delves into how the platforms are developed. Consider posing a question, for audience discussion, about why they support their Party.

How to organize a precinct?

Why is “get out the vote” work probably the most important activity in winning? Discuss the finer points of our ground game. Invite veteran volunteers to share their experiences and knowledge.

National, state and local governmental issues

Invite local public officials and state officials to speak; review the major bills before the legislature, and Congress. Invite various candidates to speak (school Board, hospital trustees, etc.).

History Lessons

These meetings are especially interesting around national and state holidays, for example Veterans Day, Flag Day, and the like. Note that with these meetings, it is extra-important to ensure the selected speaker presenting the topic is a dynamic communicator who can make the subject interesting and fun.

Guidelines for a Club Program Committee

Designate program chair

Clubs are encouraged to meet weekly and it works well to have a Club member designated as the Program Chair for the month (a quarterly Program Chair can be designated for monthly Clubs). This distributes the work and ensures one person isn't overburdened. And, since the Program Chair for the month (or quarter) introduces the programs, the Club can benefit from sharing the leadership.

Plan ahead

Hold a good program committee meeting at the beginning of each new Club year to plan ahead. Your programs should help carry out the new Club's purpose and objectives.

Schedule programs in advance

The committee is responsible for scheduling the Club programs, optimally at least one month in advance. Announcing programs in advance promotes interest, attendance and new members. Members ask themselves, “What's in it for me?” Programs should be perceived as a “benefit” of being a member and attending regularly. Publish your speakers on Facebook by creating Events on your Club's Facebook page.

Publicize programs

The committee should also coordinate or handle the publicity of Club programs. If your Club has a PR chair who handles news releases, coordinate with him or her. Be sure to alert the local news media about your meetings and programs. Submit a brief news release announcing the guest speaker, meeting place, date and time. In addition, furnish local, State and National Pachyderm newsletter editors with your program “news”. Facebook, Twitter, and club websites are other ways you should be promoting your programs.

Standardize meeting format

Use a standard opening and agenda for each Club meeting. Some weekly clubs hold a more formal opening on the last meeting of each month and read the Pachyderm Preamble or purpose.

Keep meetings interesting

Don't allow your normal Club meetings to become cluttered with routine business. Most business should be handled by your Club's Board of directors. Keep your Club President and Board advised on the activities of the program committee.

Invite spouses

See that spouses receive a special invitation to some meetings. Some weekly clubs regularly invite the spouses to the last meeting of the month. Also, don't forget to invite spouses to join! Many clubs have a couple's rate to encourage membership of spouses.

Poll membership

Survey the wishes of the members either via your Club newsletter, a handout or by talking to them.

Prepare the meeting room

Be sure that someone is responsible for the appearance of the meeting room and that the standard objects are always in place, such as: the Club banner, the American flag, a poster of the Pachyderm Preamble or Purpose. This task could be assigned to a house committee or the sergeant at arms.

Social Media Committee

Why worry about the Internet?

The Internet and Social Media are the most useful information medium in our society today. It is no longer a domain of any specific socioeconomic group, but rather is the preferred information source for a wide demographic band. Beyond its reach, it also has the political advantage of being unfiltered. There are no commentators or journalists reshaping what we want to express. This creates a tremendous advantage for those in the political realm. Pachyderm Clubs should be utilizing the many resources available on the web. Appoint a Social Media committee to implement and maintain the Club's website, Facebook page and other social media sites such as Twitter, Instagram and similar apps or services. The National office can help you get your Club's website established. Your site can be as simple or as elaborate as you wish, but the minimum that we recommend is as follows:

- 1) Display the current, copyrighted Pachyderm logo and your Club name at the top of your page. Clubs may use their own club logo, if one exists, but be advised that National's logo should be displayed on your website as well.
- 2) The official Pachyderm colors are gold (pantone #132), black and white.
- 3) Display the mailing address, phone number, and an email address of your Club.
- 4) Prominently post the location, date and time of your meetings.
- 5) Provide a brief description of what the Pachyderm Club movement is about.

Optional items to include:

- 1) List upcoming speakers and the date of their appearance.
- 2) List past speakers with quotes from their appearance.
- 3) List other Republican events on your site.
- 4) Have an area with links to other Pachyderm and local GOP organizations.
- 5) Place a copy of your latest newsletter in downloadable format on the site.
- 6) Place a copy of the membership application for your Club on the site.
- 7) Have a list of officers with contact information on the site.
- 8) Be sure to link all your social media accounts.

How much does it cost?

Creating and maintaining a website can be fairly expensive for an individual Club, involving a recurring hosting charge each month. The National Federation has decided that an internet presence is so important that we can help cover some or all of those monthly fees for you. We now offer you space on our website at no charge. Each Club will be provided their own secure sub-account on the National website in which the local Club can maintain their own Club site. Your Club incurs no monthly fees for the national-provided site. Your URL (your web address) will be www.pachyderms.org/yourclubname. All you need is a member who can maintain and update the page for you. (Note, this is a “project-in-progress” as of the printing of this handbook, Sep2019.)

As with any Pachyderm publication, you are, of course, required to adhere to the non-endorsement of candidates or issues policy on your Club site.

To get started, contact National Headquarters at 888-GOPACHY (888-467-2249) or via email at admin@pachyderms.org.

Ambassadors Committee

Purpose

The purpose of the ambassadors committee is to encourage individual Pachyderm members (while traveling) to assist in organizing new clubs and in obtaining new members. This program provides a positive vehicle for accomplishing this purpose and is probably the most economical method for increasing both individual and Club memberships. Suggestions for Pachyderm Ambassadors:

Carry Pachyderm literature

Keep a supply of membership applications and the primary Pachyderm brochures on hand as you travel.

Keep the Charter Checklist handy

Keep a copy of the Charter Checklist in your possession to aid you in briefing prospective Club starters.

Inform and invite

As you meet people in social contacts or otherwise, when it is appropriate, inform them about Pachyderm Clubs and invite them to join. If you find sufficient interest, then present the idea of starting a local Club.

Look for opportunities

Be alert to announcements in local newspapers, radio, and TV about Republican gatherings. When time permits, attend these gatherings and meet other Republicans. Be sure to wear your Pachyderms lapel pin!

Locate contacts

Inquire as to who is the local Republican Chairperson. Invite the local chairperson for a cup of coffee. Inquire as to whether there is one or more Republican elected officials in the area, such as a State Senator, State Representative, county level official, etc. Sometimes you can also find out who has been active in political campaigns. It is amazing what one can discover by just asking a few questions in most any town. Also, find out if another Republican Club exists there. If a GOP women’s club exists (often under the umbrella of the National Federation of Republican Women (NFRW)), the President may know someone who would be interested in a Pachyderm Club.

Reports and Supplies

At any time, you may forward to the Pachyderm office any information you think appropriate. If you want some information sent to a particular individual, email or call the National Headquarters with their contact information.

Additional copies of Pachyderm brochures, membership applications and other items you may need can be obtained from Pachyderms Headquarters.

Also consider contacting Pachyderm Headquarters before traveling. Headquarters may have GOP contacts in the area of your trip. The toll-free Pachyderm number is 1-888-467-2249.

Awards Committee

The Awards Committee is assigned overall responsibility for Club awards. Club awards generally include the Tough Tusk Award, the Meritorious Service Award and the Certificate of Appreciation. Also, each local Club's outgoing President is eligible to receive the Past President's Plaque and Pin. Nominations for awards are normally referred to the Awards Committee. The Awards Committee may be assigned other duties by the Club's Board of Directors. Consider asking past award winners from your Club to sit on the awards committee. This way you avoid conflict of having a potential nominee on the committee.

Nomination Instructions

- Awards are determined by the Club's Board or an appointed Awards committee.
- Send completed copies of award winner(s) nomination forms are to be sent to the National Headquarters for prior approval.
- Present Awards in a special ceremony during a Club meetings or at special occasions such as officer installation or at Lincoln Day.
- Honor roll of recipients should be maintained by local clubs.
- Number of awards should not exceed 5% of Club membership for the year, with a limit of one Tough Tusk and two Meritorious Service Awards per year. All nominees for the Tough Tusk or Meritorious Service award must be approved by and ordered from National Headquarters.

Awards Nomination Process

National Awards

The National Federation of Pachyderm Clubs has a multi-level awards system designed to recognize excellence both within the membership and the organization itself. Once every two years, the National Federation convenes in a nationwide conference and bestows a series of awards to recognize attributes such as Club growth, newsletter quality, website excellence, Club scrapbooks, community involvement and Club leadership. Recipients of these awards are selected by the National Awards committee based on materials submitted to the National Federation Headquarters throughout the year.

In addition to these "Club" awards, the National Federation is also empowered to the "Tough Tusk Award" and Meritorious Service Awards each year. These awards are designed to recognize the contributions of individual members to the National Federation. The recipients of these awards are also chosen by the National Awards committee, but the nominations come from the individual members, Clubs and State Federations. Any member in good standing can make a nomination for either of these awards at any time, although this is typically done in cooperation with your local Club's board of directors. All nominations that are received will be forwarded to the National Awards Committee for consideration at the next National Conference. A very prestigious award, The George W. Parker Founder's Award, has also been established to recognize special, lifetime achievement and contribution to the National Pachyderms organization.

Local Club Awards

Just as the National Federation can award members for excellence, each individual Club can as well. Once each year, usually at the installation banquet, your local Club can request permission to bestow a single Tough Tusk Award and one or more Meritorious Service Awards. The number of meritorious service awards that can be given varies with the size of the Club, but no Club may nominate more than 5% of their membership for an award in any year. Clubs should limit the number of these awards bestowed in order to retain the significance of the award.

At least three months prior to the annual banquet, each Club President should appoint an awards committee. It is recommended that this committee be made up of prior award winners if possible. This committee should then announce to the membership that it is seeking nominations for awards. Once the membership has had adequate opportunity to make nominations, the awards committee should review all of the nominations and make their recommendations for awards. These recommendations are then forwarded to the National Headquarters for processing.

The recommendations will be reviewed at National Headquarters and the awards will be ordered and shipped to your Awards Committee Chair. The Club will be billed for the cost of awards plus shipping. All “Tough Tusk” and “Meritorious Service” awards must be authorized by the National Office. Local Clubs are not allowed to create their own versions of these awards.

By the controlling the issuance of the “Tough Tusk” and “Meritorious Service” awards, we can insure that the awards are given in a consistent manner and that they are not cheapened through their use as tokens of favor. In fairness to all of the Pachyderms who have received these awards over the years, we must keep the standards very high for the bestowing of these awards.

Meritorious Service Award

The Meritorious Service Award was adopted by the National Federation Board of Directors on October 3, 1981. The Meritorious Service Award is a special award to be given by local clubs to members who have exhibited special devotion to the Club over long periods, exceptional service to the Club or party over specific shorter periods, or specific local, state or national service outside the organization which brings honor and note to the organization by the very nature of the actions performed. This is to be a very special award and local clubs should carefully select those who are to be recipients.

Like the Tough Tusk Award, the National office will provide the award materials subject to a review of the nomination by the National Awards committee.

Note: A Tough Tusk Award packet (includes a “Tough Tusk” with necklace, plaque, lapel pin and the required reading) must be ordered from Pachyderm Federation Headquarters.

Tough Tusk Award

The Tough Tusk Award is the highest award presented to a Pachyderm member. The Club Secretary is the default (if no awards committee exists) key contact for the Tough Tusk Award. His or her responsibilities include advising Club members of the award and providing the nomination form at meetings. As far as timing is concerned, Club elections are held in November. Installation of the new Board is in December. Therefore, it is recommended that the Tough Tusk Award be presented at the installation ceremony. Thus, Club members should be provided with nomination forms and be advised of the award each year no later than October 1. The awards process can be publicized through announcements at Club meetings and announcements in the Club newsletter.

See that your Club Board initiates a Tough Tusk Award Selection Committee. This committee will receive the completed nomination forms and will, after reviewing the forms, make a recommendation to the National Office for the winner. The committee may desire to interview finalists or seek other information. It is recommended that the committee consists of three to five members appointed by the Club President. Consider inviting the past award's recipients, local Republican Party Chair and a Republican Officer holder, who are members of the Pachyderm Club to serve on the committee.

Forwarding the nomination to the National Federation

Reporting the results

The committee shall report only one recipient of the award. No ballot results of the committee shall be released, except the name of the designated recipient. Prior to the presentation to the awardee, no information as to the recipient will be released, except as necessary to arrange the presentation and to ensure the presence of the recipient.

Notification of eligibility

Notify your Club's Board and President by March of each year that the Club Board is eligible to forward a nomination for the state level award. In states where a State Federation exists, the State Federation awards committee will review the nominations and may choose to award a state level Tough Tusk award.

Tough Tusk Award Presentation Reading

The following text is specified presentation required to be read at the presentation ceremony of the Tough Tusk Award. As you can see, the Tough Tusk is symbolic of the many fine attributes of the best of the Pachyderm members. The drafting of this text is attributed to prior Pachyderm member, John Stoeffler:

“Just as a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, so it is with freedom. It will remain strong only as long as each of us is strong. The link between the tusk and the chain is a reminder of this.

The color of the chain is gold, to remind us that our freedoms are precious. The tusk is white to remind us that our goals must be spotless, our motives pure. The tusk is a tool of a Pachyderm used to strip the bark from trees and dig for roots. This should remind us that, as Pachyderms and Republicans, we must strip away the facade of irresponsible politicians and dig until we get to the root of the problem.

The tusk, when held with the point downward, is curved to remind us that when on top, one small step in the wrong direction can bring us down. When held with the point upward, it reminds us that when we are down there is only one way to go — up!

The tusk is made of very durable material, reminding us that we must resist the temptation to let ourselves and our Party crumble.

The tusk is pointed to remind us that we must jab our political opponents effectively and hard so that we will always make our point.”

Club Start Guide

The following section of this handbook outlines the steps regarding how to start a new, local Club chapter of Pachyderms. This is by no means intended to be an all-inclusive list, but it does provide an effective outline of procedures and requirements. Please contact the National office for more assistance in starting new Clubs.

Why Start a Pachyderm Club?

Offer a sense of community

Typically, if an American desires to support something he believes in, he joins an organization. For example, to support education, there is a PTA chapter in nearly every school. To support veterans' affairs and national defense, there are Veterans Clubs in nearly every city. But, if you choose to participate in political activity and support the candidates and party of your choice, do you have a Club to belong to? The Pachyderm Club offers that community.

Provide a place for new supporters

Every election our party stalwarts see new people come out to support some candidate. The "new" people have never been seen at a Republican Party function before. What happens to them after the election? Where do they go? What do they do to stay involved? The Pachyderm Club provides that place.

Channel support for the Republican Party

When a person moves into your area and calls to say, "I'd like to participate in Republican activities. Please tell me what I can do?" What is your answer? The Pachyderm Club is that answer.

Stay politically current

If it is important enough to meet weekly with your favorite civic Club to promote doing good for the community, isn't it equally important to meet similarly to promote good candidates, better government, and keep abreast of political and governmental affairs? Again: the Pachyderm Club.

Promote a unifying spirit

Pachyderm Club rules make it possible to develop a stable, ongoing political Club movement, which is nonfactional and unifying in spirit. Our Clubs have proven that they can:

- Become a communications center for politics and government
- Motivate, inspire and keep workers together year round
- Aid in candidate recruitment and development
- Serve as a training ground for volunteers and future leaders
- Provide a forum for candidates, officeholders and others
- Provide a place where citizens are welcome to learn about and keep abreast of political and governmental matters

Quote: "To be strong and responsible, our parties must be representative; and they can be no more representative than our participation allows. Millions more of us need to get into partisan political activity. If we do nothing, we guarantee our nation will be nothing. There is nothing for nothing any more. Our choice is simple, either we become partakers in the government, or we forsake the American future." - David S. Broder

How to Start a Pachyderm Club

It only takes ten (10) people to start a Club. Please contact our National office for assistance. We can be reached via phone 1 (888) 467-2249 or via email at admin@pachyderms.org.

Step 1: Form a Steering Committee

Once you have decided to start a Club, ask three to five others to join you as a steering committee.

Caution: Some persons when asked about starting a Club will say, “I’ll check around and see if there is any interest in a Club.” This is normally not the way to start anything. Remember, leaders create interest; leaders get things moving.

Find out if there are factions within the local Republican party. If so, make an attempt to have the major factions represented on the steering committee. Remember, Pachyderm Clubs should be a “unifying” force for the party.

Step 2: Plan Steering Committee Meeting

Schedule a meeting of the steering committee. Accomplish the following at the first organizational meeting:

Explain the Pachyderm Clubs

Use as references from this handbook, as well as any materials provided by the National office.

Sign up those present as members

Select a temporary Club Treasurer, who will start a bank account. The Treasurer collects the dues at this and subsequent meetings. He or she forwards the National Pachyderm Federation’s portion of each member’s dues to Headquarters along with his or her name, address and contact information.

Send Letter of Intent to Headquarters

Select a name for the Club

Examples: “Columbia Pachyderm Club,” “Marion County Pachyderm Club”, “_____Area Pachyderm Club.” [Note: The National office must approve your Club name, so please share the proposed name with our Executive Director before moving ahead with the moniker.]

Determine the format of the Club

Will the Club meet weekly or monthly, at noon or evening? Most civic Clubs start as a noon meeting Club — you may want to emulate what other successful Clubs do in your area.

Adopt the standard Club bylaws

Elect/Select Temporary officers

The steering committee selects the initial, temporary, President, Secretary and Treasurer. They may also select others (see below). Serving as the nominating committee, the steering committee may accept nominations from among the paid members and then elect the remainder of the Club Board at an early Club meeting. These officers serve for the first year of the Club. The initial officers’ and Board members’ term, selected after August first, shall be for the next full year.

A typical Club's Board of Directors includes the following:

- President
- First Vice President
- Second Vice President
- Secretary
- Treasurer
- Sergeant-At-Arms (optional)
- Ex-Officio Director (County or City Republican Chair)
- (2) Directors (two-year term)
- (2) Directors (three-year term)

Plan next meeting

Select the date, time and place for the next meeting.

Determine the cutoff date for charter members

This date is usually between 30 to 90 days after the first Club meeting. A good method is to schedule the Club's first installation banquet as the cutoff date. Thus, new prospective members can attend the banquet and become charter members.

Establish a temporary Club address

A PO Box is recommended as a permanent address (important for the Club letterhead, establishment of a bank account, and is generally a mark of being organized).

Prepare "Invitation to Join" letter and press releases

Ask all present members to contact at least five others to attend the next meeting and to carry five or more membership applications for signing up new members.

Step 3: Plan the Second Organizational Meeting

If the steering committee has accomplished the items listed above, and if the "invite to join" letters, phone calls or other get out the Republicans activities have taken place, then this second meeting can be the kickoff meeting of the Club (The steering committee can always hold other committee meetings to firm up plans.)

Announce officers and upcoming elections

Announce the temporary officers and nominations for the upcoming election of permanent officers, which will take place at the next meeting. While the first slate of permanent officers are typically the same individuals as the temporary officers, invite suggestions and input for the steering/nominations committee.

Announce date, time and place for regular Club meetings

Consistency is important, so try to find a centrally-located meeting venue and stick with your recurring schedule. This is typically at a restaurant (with a separate meeting/dining room) or at a community center space. Negotiate with the restaurant for reduced cost menu options. There is no single method that suits all clubs. Some restaurant locations allow for individual separate checks, others may ask for the Club to pay in a single check for the group (where the Club Treasurer will collect payment from the individual members/guests). Buffet options also make it easy for members to select and pay for their individual meals. – Again, there are multiple formats depending on your venue options.

Invite attendees to complete a membership application

Ask for their dues payment. Distribute extra application copies and ask them to sign-up five new members before the next meeting. Note: Club Materials will be shipped upon receipt of the first dues payment to National Headquarters.

Announce the program for the next meeting

It is desirable to line up four or more programs in advance so these can be listed in your Invitation to Join letter and newsletter. Be sure that the program for this second meeting includes a review of what Pachyderm Clubs are about. Be sure to establish social media accounts and list your upcoming meetings and speakers in Facebook Events.

Other

Maintain contact with Headquarters

Keep Pachyderm Headquarters informed on your progress. Send the names and addresses of your steering committee and of your new Club Board.

Member dues

Club Treasurers are directed to forward dues promptly, along with names and addresses to the National Treasurer. If a State Federation exists, the Club Treasurer forwards the state dues portion to the state Treasurer. The national and state portion of a member's dues are listed in the Treasurer's section of this handbook.

New member induction

Induction of a new member includes presenting a lapel pin. Pins and name badges are supplied by the National Office for new members.

Organizational aids

After your steering committee has held its first organizational meeting and mailed the preliminary Letter of Intent to Headquarters, other organizational aids will be forthcoming, including the Club Handbook. You will also find helpful information on the NFPC website: pachyderms.org.

Club Growth and Development

Leadership Development

Pachyderm Club is the Place for Developing Leaders

By: James M. Rankin, Galveston Island Pachyderm Club

Leadership is a cherished attribute in any worthwhile endeavor. With that in mind, where can individuals go to master this essential trait that is so vital to our survival in our world today? The answer would be the Pachyderm Club – where you are able to learn from and interact with community and political leaders on a weekly basis. As a member of the Pachyderm club you have the opportunity to develop into a leader in the rich environment of your local club. There are five categories that all leaders possess. These five groupings are as follows:

- Ethical – A true leader has a sense of justice and approaches everyone with an objective mindset that is committed to preventing and resolving any conflicts in a fair, consistent and timely manner.
- Initiator – They have mastered the art of problem solving and they take action. The leader's example spurs his or her team to take action themselves.
- Communicator – A leader has the ability to effectively communicate the vision of the organization, to keep all members abreast of the issues, events and roles and to have a heart to serve others. Listening is a key part of communicating. It is only by listening to the concerns of the members will a leader gain their support and loyalty.
- Inspirational – A leader is able to inspire their members then, in turn, stimulate them to tap in on their own abilities, skills and experience to assist the leader in carrying out the mission of the organization.
- Mentor – Leaders should have a mindset to serve and train others. Ideally, your proteges will then repeat the cycle with new leaders mentoring others. Mentoring is the most cost efficient way to develop others.

Also, a leader has the desire and ability to attract and unite people together to work on a common cause. They are able to initial the process of getting others to work together on the right program at the right time by being decisive with a set and agreed upon goals program. Effective leaders set up the parameters to measure success and installs accountability checklist to honor excellence and to console temporary defeats.

When you develop into a leader then you have gone a long way in influencing your world in a positive and productive way that will move others into the direction of your dreams.

How to be a Leader

Leadership bestows power, commands respect and, most important, fosters achievement. Contrary to popular belief, most good leaders are made, not born. How do they (and you) get others to follow?

Always give credit

Giving credit is more effective than even the most constructive criticism, which often hurts rather than helps.

Take informed risks

To be a leader, you must learn to fail and not die a thousand deaths.

Show the way

If you're confident about reaching a goal, others echo that confidence and try to achieve it for you.

Keep the faith

If you trust others to do well, they will. If, on the other hand, you believe your people will fail, they will probably meet your expectations, as well. Having faith in someone gives him or her self-confidence and pleasure. It may sound corny, but the experts agree it works.

Get a compass

People don't follow leaders who lack direction.

Act the part

Good leaders have learned to sound and look like winners. They know that appearance and manners count — their demeanor is unruffled and assured.

Be competent

Knowledge and proficiency are part of a leaders' charisma. Competence galvanizes people and will make them look to you for guidance and direction.

Foster enthusiasm

"The best way to generate excitement is to be enthusiastic yourself — it's contagious," says Lee Ducat.

Delegate

Organizations are much more efficient and healthy when membership shares the burden and is involved.

How to Run a Successful Pachyderm Club

Pachyderm Club Leadership Education

Regardless of whether a regional Director is available, the Club President should assume responsibility to see that the Club officers and committee chairs know their duties.

Regional Directors

Federation regional Directors have responsibilities in officer training. Clubs should utilize this expertise.

Officers and Committee Chairs

Club leaders should know the contents of the Pachyderm handbook, particularly the information about their own jobs or assignments.

Club Presidents

- Consider the advice and help of Past Presidents.
- Plan specific use of Club officers and committee chairs.
- Meet with every committee as appropriate. Adopt a budget by January 31.
- Follow up with chairs. Appointing a program chair does not necessarily mean that your programs will be good.
- See that Club goals/objectives are formulated early in the term. Consider holding a Board Retreat to plan.
- Prepare an overall schedule for Club Board meetings. Also, prepare an annual calendar.
- Invite new members to participate in some Club activity soon after joining.

Orientation for New Members

The basis for morale in any organization is for members to know why they are there and what they are there to do.

Knowledge of Pachyderm Background

New members need to know what Pachyderm Clubs have done in the past and what they can do in the future. They need to know the purpose and the overall benefit for good government that the Clubs can serve.

“One man with a belief is worth 99 without.”

If a new member learns of the Pachyderm Clubs’ purpose, how a Club operates, where a Club fits into the overall political system, and if he or she believes those activities are worthy, he or she will most likely be a dedicated member.

New Member Induction

Place importance on the manner in which the Club inducts new members. As a minimum standard:

- Announce in advance the time and place of the induction.
- Provide a summary statement of what Pachyderm Clubs are about.
- Provide a thoughtful introduction for each inductee and present him or her with a lapel pin.
- Inform the new member that a copy of the Club bylaws and a membership roster are available.

The Good Club Meeting

- Begin and adjourn the meeting on time.
- Use a standard meeting format.
- Involve as many members as possible.
- Give the guest speaker a time limit and a thoughtful introduction.
- Develop fellowship, show enthusiasm, applaud guests and introductions, especially public officials and VIPs.
- Reward accomplishments with prizes or awards.
- Determine member interests and hobbies.

Function of Board and Committees

Board of Directors

- Get to know your Board. Obtain biographical sketches and review them, looking for their individual talents.
- Elicit broad participation from the Board. They should be a part of the Club's administration. Make sure each Board member has a job and ask for periodic reports.
- Remind Board members of meeting times; usually a text message or phone call the day before the meeting will suffice.
- The President should encourage all members to feel comfortable speaking up during meetings, while discouraging members from monopolizing discussion.
- The best Board meetings do not always immediately follow regular Club meetings — set dates ahead of time and space them evenly.

Committees

- Most of what a Club accomplishes is through its committees. Carefully select committee chairs based on interest and qualification.
- Set individual conferences with the new chairs. Discuss meetings, Board meeting attendance and other Club functions.
- Communicate with Club officers and committee chairs. Assign Directors to tasks. For example, PR may be divided into newsletter, social media, press releases and interclub communication.

What a Pachyderm Club Can Do

- Help inspire and motivate people toward supportive activities and good government.
- Become a communications center for politics and government.
- Aid candidate recruitment.
- Serve as a training ground for future leaders and volunteers.
- Provide a forum for candidates and officeholders.
- Provide regular Club programs centered on government and politics.
- Have a Club orientation program for new members.
- Have a political education committee, political awareness promotes better government.
- Survey local high schools to discover what is taught on practical politics. Offer to assist your local schools in enhancing the teaching about practical politics.
- Raise funds for candidates and Pachyderm scholarships.

- Establish an annual scholarship for a boy and a girl to attend Boys or Girls State or some other activity related to political service.
- Hold an annual recognition event for public and party officials.
- Hold an annual charter night banquet.
- Sponsor an annual or semiannual Republican Youth Conference to aid Teenage Republicans and College Republican Clubs.

Attributes of a Good Pachyderm Club

- Civility
- Character
- Community respect
- A worthy purpose
- Fraternal spirit
- Forums and educational events (pro and con on issues)
- Ability to bring new people to the Republican Party
- A Club format that includes fun, fellowship and a program.

The Bottom Line

A Pachyderm Club supports better government. This means promoting liberty and justice for all.

Program Tips

The programming of a Pachyderm Club is of critical importance because it is interest in the programs that brings people to the meetings. All Pachyderm Clubs are expressly forbidden to take sides on issues but that does not mean that we should not use the discussion of issues as a part of our programming. On the contrary, we need to use issues, but we must insure that both sides of each issue are presented. Sometimes, both sides of an issue can be adequately presented in a single meeting, but more often than not, each will require a separate meeting. This makes the job of the program committee easier, because covering each important issue may require at least two meetings. Clubs have reported great success with scheduling a series of meetings to cover multiple aspects of very large and complex issues. The Great Falls Montana Club had six straight weeks of programs covering all aspects of electrical utility deregulation and as a result enjoyed great press coverage, a huge increase in attendance and a record number of guests.

Pachyderm Clubs are also forbidden to take sides in contested primary elections, but just as with the issues, contested races provide multiple programs for each office. Once again, we are not taking sides if all candidates are given an equal opportunity to speak. Debates also make very good programs although they can be difficult to administer fairly. If you are going to use a debate format for one of your meetings make certain the rules and policies that are going to govern the debate are written out and agreed to by all participants prior to announcing the debate.

Another important aspect of a good program is generating a crowd. It is not only disappointing to get a great speaker and not have a large number of people attend, it is also damaging. You will find that most of the speakers at your Club also speak to a number of other groups each year. For the most part, all of these guest speakers know each other and compare notes on how they were treated when they speak to an organization. It is very difficult to secure speakers if your Club has a reputation of low attendance or poor manners toward the speaker. Remember, these speakers are our guests and desire a large, polite crowd. It is critical that the Club make every effort to have a good turnout at every meeting, but this is especially true if you have invited a prominent or out of town speaker.

There are several ways to build a crowd for a speaker that do not involve any expense. The first is to remind your members of who the speaker is and ask them to invite guests. This is one of the reasons that your Club should have a monthly newsletter, to inform members of the “coming attractions”. Your Club should also have a calling tree set up so that members can be reminded to attend the day of the event. A Club website and e-mail are electronic methods to inform your members and the public about your upcoming speakers. Lastly, never overlook the use of earned media and public service announcements. Most newspapers publish, at no charge a “what is happening today” section where organizations can list their meetings. Many electronic media outlets offer a similar service to announce upcoming events. These are tremendous opportunities that many of our Clubs do not exploit.

You should also provide all of the news outlets in your area with a reminder as to who your speaker is (at least a week prior to the event) so that they can assign a reporter to cover those items that they view as newsworthy. Do not be discouraged if the press does not attend all of your meetings, they will pick and choose, but every time you do get a news story, it will greatly enhance your public image and your standing in eyes of potential speakers.

Program Reminders

- ★ Program topics related to current events are usually interesting to members, especially pro and con discussions. Consider sponsoring open forums on major community issues.
- ★ Plan several major programs throughout the year where spouses and guests are invited to attend.
- ★ Plan one or more programs annually with emphasis on (1) youth (2) senior citizens, and (3) citizen participation in the political process.
- ★ Plan interclub activities with other Republican organizations in the area (meetings, picnics, open forum, happy hour, etc.)
- ★ Have a mini program (three to five minutes) at some meetings.
- ★ Some Clubs use fundraisers to maintain lower dues. Your Club might hold a regular 50/50 drawing (if legal in your state), or create a “Sustaining Member” dues level of $100.
- ★ Organize one or more special events each year, open to the public, where they can meet candidates, officeholders, congressmen, etc. Coordinate these with other GOP organizations.
- ★ Make sure your Club is represented at State and National Pachyderm Federation meetings, workshops, conferences as well as State Republican meetings or other political events.
- ★ See that all speakers are properly introduced — who they are and why they are qualified to speak on each subject.
- ★ Properly recognize all elected officials and heads of party organizations attending each meeting.
- ★ Remember: Like most civic clubs, your Board of Directors should handle most of the Club business. Do not clutter up regular meetings with miscellaneous business. Focus on: Fun, Fellowship and Program.
